Kitchen cabinets with a glazed finish are a newer feature that lend to a distinctive décor. Choose from 100 door styles in maple, oak, cherry, alder or knotty alder. Glazes in a variety of colors can be applied to give an antique look, or even highlight the natural beauty of the wood. Another feature that can dramatically change a kitchen is the look of new countertops. Engineered stone countertops are manufactured using a man-made process, but remain a mostly natural product. The true beauty of quartz shines through in any kitchen, and with 100 colors to choose from, it perfectly compliments an entire range of kitchen décor styles.
